

Engine Test Stand Tooling

Utilising our expertise in engine tooling and manufacturing capability CK developed a new product for use in engine test.

Recognising the preparation requirements within engine test facilities, we sought to design a standard test stand which allowed engine changeover in test cells to be much simpler and quicker, thus maximizing the available testing time.

These engine test stands have been successfully installed in Case New Holland (CNH) in Basildon.

